

Erecting Your Shed or Carport

Local Sheds can manage your complete shed solution from purchasing the shed, handling the council application through to erecting your shed and even laying down the slab.

There is no need to organise any additional contractors or be surprised by any unknown "extra" costs. We can manage the whole process for you.

Our licensed builders have been erecting sheds for over 20 years and know all the tools, tips and tricks of the trade.

We will take great care in building your shed to ensure it is as strong as possible, whilst ensuring that all engineering and council obligations are met.

You can of course choose to build the shed yourself. When you buy a garage from Local Sheds you will be supplied with a comprehensive erection manual and relevant engineering plans. Just remember that usually specialist equipment is required to erect larger sheds.

This equipment can easily be hired by the day or weekend.

If the site for your shed is on the side of a hill then additional earthworks may be required. All sheds must be built on level sites, so let us know before we give you a quote about any additional earthworks.

We have reliable quality contractors who will provide competitive pricing.

We normally only quote a shed with the gutter downpipes down to ground level. If you want to connect your rainwater to a storm-water tank or have other specialist storm-water connections requirements let us know when you come in for a quote.

Building on difficult or sloping sites can be arranged, its just a matter of how you want the finished building to look, and what may be more cost effective. Why not call to discuss how we can assist with your carport or shed project.
